Requirements for Reproducing or Adapting Copyright-Protected Material for Publication in JAMA Ophthalmology: Guidelines for Authors

Permission to reproduce or adapt copyright-protected material (tables, figures, videos, or substantial portions of text) in JAMA Ophthalmology must be obtained from the copyright owner. In general, publishers hold the copyright to material previously published in journals, books, and digital media, but in some instances, especially for illustrations, photographs, and videos, the original creator of the work may retain copyright. Copyright to unpublished material is usually held by the creator of the work.

If you wish to include copyright-protected material in your article, please provide BOTH of the following items:

1. Written permission from the copyright owner of the material (see instructions that follow); AND
2. For previously published material, a copy of the original publication (journal article, book chapter, etc) in which the content appeared.

How to Request Permission
For previously published material, direct your request for grant of permission to the permissions department of the journal or publisher. For unpublished material, contact the creator of the work to find out who owns the copyright. Request permission as soon as possible. In the event that your request cannot be granted, you will need time to substitute other material.

Include all of the following information in your request (see attached form):

1. Your Contact Information
   Name, mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and e-mail address.

2. Information About the Material to Be Used
   Complete Source Citation
   For Journals: Author(s), article title, journal title, year of publication, volume number, issue number, and inclusive page numbers.
   For Books: Author(s) or editor(s), book title, place of publication, publisher, year of copyright, and inclusive page numbers.
   Material You Wish to Use
   Specify by figure, table, or video number(s) or identify the portion of text.

3. How the Material Is to Be Used
   Title of your article to be published in JAMA Ophthalmology
   Names of author(s)

4. Terms of Use
   Use of the material in print, online, and licensed versions of JAMA Ophthalmology
   Nonexclusive rights
   Unrestricted time
   All languages
   Note: We cannot accept permissions that restrict use to one-time only or to English-language only.

Include the permission(s) and copy(ies) of the original material with your manuscript.
