

CORRECTION

Incorrect Data in Figure: In the Research Letter entitled “Joint Prevalence of Sitting Time and Leisure-Time Physical Activity Among US Adults, 2015-2016,” published in the November 20, 2018, issue of JAMA, the bar heights and error bars shown in the figure were incorrect. This article was corrected online.

Incorrect Word Used: In the Editorial entitled “The Evolving Story of Triglycerides and Coronary Heart Disease Risk,” published in the January 29, 2019, issue of JAMA, an incorrect word was used. In the third sentence of the seventh paragraph, the word “increases” should have been “decreases” in the last part of the sentence so that the full sentence would read: “Variants associated with TG lowering, but not ApoB lowering, likely led to either decreases in chylomicrons or the TG content of VLDL particles, rather than decreases in the number of VLDL particles.” This article was corrected online.

Guidelines for Letters

Letters discussing a recent JAMA article should be submitted within 4 weeks of the article’s publication in print. Letters received after 4 weeks will rarely be considered. Letters should not exceed 400 words of text and 5 references and may have no more than 3 authors. Letters reporting original research should not exceed 600 words of text and 6 references and may have no more than 7 authors. They may include up to 2 tables or figures but online supplementary material is not allowed. All letters should include a word count. Letters must not duplicate other material published or submitted for publication. Letters not meeting these specifications are generally not considered. Letters being considered for publication ordinarily will be sent to the authors of the JAMA article, who will be given the opportunity to reply. Letters will be published at the discretion of the editors and are subject to abridgement and editing. Further instructions can be found at http://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/pages/instructions-for-authors. A signed statement for authorship criteria and responsibility, financial disclosure, copyright transfer, and acknowledgment are required before publication. Letters should be submitted via the JAMA online submission and review system at https://manuscripts.jama.com. For technical assistance, please contact jama-letters@jamanetwork.org.
