CORRECTION

Addition of Nonauthor Collaborator Names of the WHIST Trial: The Original Investigation titled “Effect of Incisional Negative Pressure Wound Therapy vs Standard Wound Dressing on Deep Surgical Site Infection after Surgery for Lower Limb Fractures Associated With Major Trauma: The WHIST Randomized Clinical Trial,” published February 11, 2020, has been corrected to include the nonauthor collaborator (group) names in a supplement.

Incorrect Terminology: In the US Preventive Services Task Force Evidence Report titled “Screening for Colorectal Cancer: Updated Evidence Report and Systematic Review for the US Preventive Services Task Force,” published in the May 18, 2021, issue of JAMA, incorrect terminology appeared in the “Accuracy of Screening” subsection of the Results. In the third sentence of the paragraph below the “High-Sensitivity gFOBT” heading and in the fifth and sixth sentences of the paragraph below the “Fecal Immunochemical Test” heading, “advanced adenocarcinoma” should have read “advanced adenoma.” This article was corrected online.

Incorrect Labels in Figure: In the JAMA Clinical Challenge titled “Decreased Exercise Tolerance in a Young Woman,” published in the September 8, 2020, issue of JAMA, a figure and figure legend were incorrect. In Figure 2, anatomical structures were incorrectly labeled and the accompanying legend should have read “Cardiac magnetic resonance imaging in the axial plane demonstrating the sinus venous defect in relation to the left atrium and right atrium.” This article was corrected online.

Guidelines for Letters

Letters discussing a recent JAMA article should be submitted within 4 weeks of the article’s publication in print. Letters received after 4 weeks will rarely be considered. Letters should not exceed 400 words of text and 5 references and may have no more than 3 authors. Letters reporting original research should not exceed 600 words of text and 6 references and may have no more than 7 authors. They may include up to 2 tables or figures but online supplementary material is not allowed. All letters should include a word count. Letters must not duplicate other material published or submitted for publication. Letters not meeting these specifications are generally not considered. Letters being considered for publication ordinarily will be sent to the authors of the JAMA article, who will be given the opportunity to reply. Letters will be published at the discretion of the editors and are subject to abridgment and editing. Further instructions can be found at http://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/pages/instructions-for-authors. A signed statement for authorship criteria and responsibility, financial disclosure, copyright transfer, and acknowledgment are required before publication. Letters should be submitted via the JAMA online submission and review system at https://manuscripts.jama.com. For technical assistance, please contact jama-letters@jamanetwork.org.
