MISSION STATEMENT: JAMA Dermatology’s mission is to elevate the art and science of health and diseases of skin, hair, nails, and mucous membranes, and to advance developments in the field of dermatologic medicine. The journal publishes high-quality, original research articles and commentaries that advance the understanding of the burden of dermatologic diseases and key outcomes, improve the practice of dermatology, and ensure equitable care to all patients. The journal also features research and opinion examining ethical, moral, socioeconomic, educational, and political issues relevant to dermatologists to enable ongoing improvement to the workforce, scope of practice, and the future of dermatology. The journal is dedicated to expanding the knowledge base and expertise within the specialty and within dermatology medical publishing.
