Correction

Error in Product Description

In the research letter titled "Effects of Sterilization With Hydrogen Peroxide and Chlorine Dioxide Solution on the Filtration Efficiency of N95, KN95, and Surgical Face Masks,"1 published June 15, 2020, the disinfection method that used chlorine dioxide actually used a product called Vital Oxide, of which chlorine dioxide is the effective, but not only, ingredient. This article has been corrected.

REFERENCE

Open Access. This is an open access article distributed under the terms of the CC-BY License.