Correction

Terminology Error

In the Original Investigation titled “Factors Associated With Declining Lung Cancer Screening After Discussion With a Physician in a Cohort of US Veterans,” published August 16, 2022, “physician” was changed to “clinician” throughout, and a sentence was added to the Study Setting subsection of the Methods section to indicate that clinicians included physicians, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants. This article has been corrected.1

REFERENCE